Governor, Deputy Commissioner Petro, Director Dubey, Barbara:

I have asked for information about why the "dial zero for a live body" option doesn't work for all CISCO phones. I have had a draft of an email to all State employees sitting on my desk since I spoke with Mr. Hashagen, who called a Senate office today to say that he has called my office 65 times with no answer.

Deputy Commissioner Kevin Brooks asked Mr. Hashagen for the numbers he's been calling with no answer. He produced one number at Fish and Game. Kevin called the number and in fact, it went to voice mail. Kevin then called the ASD for Fish and Game to alert him to the problem.

We are working to resolve Mr. Hashagen's concerns. I want to send out an email that offers the best options as a reminder and not ones that don't always work (zero for a live body).

Subject: customer complaint

Good morning Governor Palin,
I had a customer call me yesterday morning. His name is Dave Hashagen, and he lives in the Port Tongass Village Association near Ketchikan. His number is Privileged or His address is P.O. Box 8311, Ketchikan, Alaska 99901. I promised him that I would email you and the Commissioner of the Department of Administration with his complaint. I am also copying my division director since our division is responsible for the State of Alaska's telecommunications. Mr. Hashagen stated that he had talked with someone in the Commissioner's office several weeks ago, but he never heard from anyone via phone or mail. He did not recall who he had talked with.

Here's the situation. The residents in his area no longer have land lines since cell phones were deployed. In order to make a call, they have to row out into the middle of the bay to get cell phone connection. They have to do this even in bad seas if a call needs to be made.

His complaint is not being able to talk to a live person whenever he calls State of Alaska numbers during normal business hours (8:00am until 5:00pm). All he gets are auto attendants or to leave a voice message. He can't just sit in a skiff for hours waiting for someone to call him back. In addition, he has also found that many state employees don't update their voice messages if they are on leave or out of their office for an extended time. He would like to call and at least have the option to get to another live person. He added, "This is inefficient for the public and other government employees as well. We have advanced communication technology; but we have a breakdown in communication because State of Alaska employees use that technology not to answer their phones. It should be a given if a customer calls the state government, they are able to reach a live person."

Under the previous Meridian phone system our telephones were programmed to either:

1) go to the Information Operator when the customer pressed 0 during the voice message they were listening to
2) go to another employee in that section that you are calling when you press 0
3) go to the Division receptionist when you press 0

What I found by calling assorted numbers in my own division as a test and pressing 0 during the voice message:
1) some went into a loop "insisting" you leave a voice message at the callee's voice mailbox
2) some rolled to the division receptionist
3) the ETS Help Center's staff personal lines roll to another Help Center analyst phone

We all know that the State of Alaska has a high staff turnover. I deal with State employees daily and whether they are brand new to the State or have been with the state a long time, they need to be trained in their positions. Most employees are not showed how to use their phones on their desk. It's assumed they know how to use any type of phone. Each system has unique capabilities. The Enterprise Technology Services Division provides the following site to assist in learning the current telephone system:
http://www.state.ak.us/local/akpages/ADMIN/info/VoIPphoneTraining.ppt

However, most employees do not know this site even exists. Also, the site does not have the directions for State of Alaska staff to reprogram their phone to redirect callers. I have included those directions below. Telephone etiquette is no longer a priority. I too encounter auto attendants and voice mails all day long due to the nature of my job duties, But I have the luxury of being able to sit at my desk to receive callbacks versus sitting in a skiff in the middle of a bay waiting for a call from someone that I don't know is even going to call me back. During my 20 years as a State of Alaska employee, I have seen a serious decline in quality customer service. We seem to be making it harder for the public to perform business with the State. We don't want to have live contact anymore. It is assumed that everyone has a computer, and they know how to use it. I work with internal and external customers all day long, and that is truly not the case.

Lastly, I supervise the State's Information Operators. They answer an average of 100 plus calls a day. I answer their calls during their breaks and lunch times if their normal backup is not available. I am always told, "I am so glad to be talking to a real person. Can you assist me in finding...?" Over 40% of those calls are customers trying to find the division that administers a particular service.

Cisco VOIP phones can be programmed by each SOA employee to redirect callers:
-log into your voice mail
-select option 4 (setup options)
-select option 3 (personal settings)
-select option 4 (alternate contact number)
-listen to that number that is currently programmed
-select option 1 to change that number
-enter the new 4-digit number followed by a pound (#) sign (note: after the full deployment of the VOIP phones— this step will change to 'enter the new 7-digit number...')
-then press star/asterisk (*) to exit

Please note that employees' phones that are part of auto attendants may already be programmed a certain way within that auto attendant; and that should be checked before an employee makes any changes to their phone.

I am going to mail Mr. Hashagen a copy of this email as a confirmation that I did send his complaint to the Governor's office and to the Department of Administration's Commissioner's office.

Thank you,
Barbara Pritchett, ETS Help Center

Stat Alert –May 9, 2008 - Correction

Yesterday's Stat Alert should have said that "CAEL's analysis indicates that states and the nation cannot match the educational attainment levels – and continued global competitiveness – by concentrating their efforts on traditional-age students alone."

The Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) has recently released Adult Learning in Focus: National and State-by-State Data (http://www.cael.org/pdf/publication_pdf/State_Indicators_Monograph.pdf). This report examines how well states are doing on meeting the educational needs of their adult populations and finds great variability. It argues that states and the nation cannot match the educational attainment levels – and continued global competitiveness – by concentrating their efforts on traditional-age students alone. In addition to the report, CAEL – in partnership with the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems (NCHEMS) – has produced individual state profiles with key indicators of success in serving adult students, available at http://www.cael.org/adultlearninginfocus.htm.

The Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) strives to maintain excellent communication with the education policy and research communities. MESSAGE:

Dear Govenor Sarah Palin,

First of let me congradulate you on such a wonderful little boy. He makes my heart happy as I think about what God has planned for his future.Blessings on you both.

Today I need to address the current proposed regulations 4AAC.33 on Correspondence programs. I do not feel that these regulations are in the best intrest of our chlidren. They are only going to cause more problems in the future.

MSBSD Correspondence Study School has given me as a parent the tools I needed to meet my daughters educational needs. She was not making it regular school and need more one on one help. This program gave me the ability to create a learning program that worked for her. Her test scores are up and I believe they will only continue to get better.

We are a unique state with unique needs please do not let more regulations choke out the C.S.S. program, and tie the hand of parents freedoms. Freedom to use a very small amount of money within the bond of our local school districts management and oversight..as we see fit to enhance their childs learning. There are already rule to what we can and cannot do, more would just make it not worth being a part of the program. It would cause people to go out on their own to educate their kids and not get the guidence and testing that is so helpful.

You as a parent can understand what it means be able to manage, train and teach your children with freedom. I understand that there are always a few people who do things wrong and take advantage of things but, I feel that the good outway the bad. Please just take a closer look into what motivated all of this. Below is my letter to the Alaska Department of Education. I know you are a busy mom/govenor and so much more so. Keep up the good work. You and your family are in our thoughts and prayers.

Thank you,

Elizabeth (Lisa) Hilty

Dear Alaska Department of Education,

I am very thankful for MSBSD Correspondence Study School. My daughter has really bloomed under this program. Before this opportunity she was struggling and far below proficient . They are a positive and eager group of people who truly love and care how your child is learning. They give you all the help and support that you need to see that your child reach his/her potential. This is what is in the best interest for our children.

More regulations would only put a choke hold on the potential for our children to learn. They would take us as parent away from what we have committed to do. Teach are children. Instead of staying focused on teaching we would have to add one more thing to already very busy schedules.

More regulations are saying that someone or some group is afraid. Our they afraid that a hand full of parents are doing a really good job for allot less money. I ask you, what is the point of taking away and tying the hand of our districts local oversight? They are providing great oversight keeping our current program up and running within MSBSD's regulation.

The regulation will restrict parent from making educational decisions on how we can spend our allotments. I am opposed to change that that takes away our freedoms as parents.

Remember this correspondence program is about building our future in a positive way not destroying it. Please don't choke it out with restriction.

We would ask the State Board of Education to allow the current regulation to remain status quo and that the State form a task force made up of representatives from statewide and district wide correspondence program to make recommendations to the State Board on changes to the regulations.

Thank you ,

Elizabeth J Hilty

Madam Governor,

First of all congratulations on your new addition. As a parent of three school age children we have a lot in common. I included a message we sent to my legislative representatives back on March 23, 2008.

Good Evening,

Please consider supporting a rebate being paid directly to consituents vs conservation incentives thru industry. My wife and I have three minor children and make what I consider a modest gross income of $55,000-65,000 per year. We can absorb heating oil price increases better than most because we have a wood stove and access to sufficient wood supplies. Most people we know don't have a wood stove and live at/or around the same income level we do. If I had to heat my home with just oil our expenses would be $4,000 - $4,500 per year (with our thermostat at 62F). Now imagine that you make $35,000 per year trying to heat a small home/appartment? I can't afford to make weatherization improvements to my own home! How is someone making less than my family going to do it?

With the notable exception of Mr Crawford you are all Republicans. I would suggest you would agree that individuals should be the arbitors of how money should be spent not the government.

ps- The wood industry in Southern Southeast is not dead. The next time you visit Ketchikan give me a call and I'll tour you through Tongass Forest Enterprises. Or check us out on the web.

The problem is we (alaskans) don't have or can't get pellets.I think it should be given some consideration as an energy source . It seems that you can heat your house-shop+hotwater cheeper than with what we have now . I just think we should be able to get the resources we need to help off set high prices and the envirment .

Governor - We have been working individually with every legislative office getting their recommendations/priorities. I believe Sheila was following up on the interaction between you and Senator Wilken near the end of session to talk about the budget. Unfortunately, Senator Wilken had very limited time available in May to meet with you before the bill deadline so I responded to Sheila to let her know that would be difficult to accommodate. I don't believe anyone has taken offense.

We did not offer to arrange individual meetings - with lawmakers and you - given the very limited time available. Privileged or Personal Material Redacted
Privileged or Personal Material

Many lawmakers have written letters urging your support for their projects and provided OMB with comments/backup, etc... I don't think any of them can accuse us of not communicating with them and the legislature certainly didn't give us much time to review given the early transmittal of the bill. Kelly may have some thoughts on the request from Sen. Therriault for a meeting.

We are also responding to hundreds of emails and letters from individuals, groups, communities all over the state seeking your support for these projects! Karen

The Senator is requesting to meet with you in regards to Capital Budget. Per your direction last week on the Wilken request - I regretted and asked if they would like to send something in writing. They then contacted Karen as you can see by her response below. Please let me know how you would like me to follow up with Senator Therriaults request.

Thanks Sheila - it is a HUGE job! We are working hard going through every project, all the backup, working with departments, legislators, communities, and trying to come up with recommendations for the governor. As you know, the governor has until May 23 to take action on the capital budget. I am planning on heading back up to Anchorage next week and the following week to work with the governor on the budget. Unfortunately, the dates that Senator Wilken is available and not very good for where we are/need to be in the process! I know that Mindy let the governor's office know about the interaction between the Governor and the Senator, but I think it will be very difficult to actually get something scheduled under the circumstances.

You probably already received a call from one of the OMB budget analysts on projects specific to your district. If you, or Gary, have any specific recommendations to share on other items, I would appreciate it very much! We are going to try to do the best job we can in the very short period of time we have to do it in! Thanks! KJR

Subject: Capital Budget

Hi Karen,

Good luck with the huge task that is before you - analyzing the largest ever capital budget. If anyone can do this massive job, it is you. I wish you the best.

I mentioned to Mindy Rowland a couple of days ago that Governor Palni stopped by to visit Gary, along with Todd, a week or so before the end of session. At this meeting Gov Palin indicated that she would like to meet with Gary and other members of the Senate minority when the capital budget was finalized to get their perspective on the merits of the some of the projects.

I can only imagine how busy Gov Palin's life must be with the birth of Trig, but if she still would like to meet- or if you would like to meet - with Gary and others, I thought it might be helpful for you to know Gary's prior commitments for the next couple of weeks.

Gary and his wife Sue plan to attend an out-of-state wedding of a close friend's son and will be gone from Alaska May 14-20 with an important local Fairbanks event on tMay 21.

Right now Gary is hauling his boat to Valdez and plans to return to Fairbanks on May 9. Therefore, as far as Gary's personal schedule goes the following dates would work for him, if the governor or you would like to visit re: capital budget.

May 10 - 13

May 22 - 23

Once again, good luck. Please let me know if I can help in any way.

Sheila

Subject: Prudhoe Bay Field Shut-down

Importance: High

I just received a phone call from Tony Brock with BP notifying me that the Prudhoe Bay field is currently shut down. Deadhorse has had phase 2 and 3 weather conditions with a lot of snow. BP believes that an airline for the fuel gas system ruptured, which resulted in the power plant shutting down, and eventually the entire field (approximate time 12:30 am today).

BP has currently re-established fuel to the power system and is in the process of starting the power plant now. Tony does not have any indication of how long it will take for everything to be back on-line but will provide me with an update and schedule this afternoon.

Important notes - there were no injuries, BP does not believe there were any spills, and all equipment functioned properly, including emergency facilities.

Let me know if I have forgotten anyone or if you have questions/want more information. I will send an update as soon as I hear back from Tony.

Speaking of big issues - do any AGIA team members have time to provide any updates today? I have 1-4pm booked but can hear any info before or after that block of time. Budget will overwhelm next week, so today's a good day to hear any AGIA info, bullet line info, etc.

Randy,

Call on us for anything. Brian will be there anytime you need him, and I will be there when I can. We'll see how the timing is the week of May 26. I'll be in full AGIA roll-out mode, so may not be able to participate in a meeting. But feel free to call my cell (Privileged) anytime to confer on strategy. It sounds like we've turned a corner on this. Good job.

We're all in this together...

Commissioner:

I will schedule a meeting for the week of May 26, which will give us a few days after finishing the budget. I would really appreciate any assistance you can provide on this. Basically, Gordon Keith, Frank Richards and I have been facing off against KABATA staff, several of KABATA's attorneys, KABATA's outside counsel and experts on everything you can think of, former Mayor Wuerch, Senator Huggins, etc., on this for about 4 months and was feeling a bit outnumbered and overwhelmed at times. We were able to raise such serious issues with the KABATA proposal that Wuerch finally said he could not support them and resigned, but there are plenty of supporters left, including Senator Huggins. Rep. Stoltze stayed through the executive session of the last Board meeting and heard Wuerch mention his reasons for resigning so he may have come around a bit but its hard to tell.

You've done a great job of analyzing the situation and setting up the pieces to allow KABATA to put up or shut up. I think that's great.

Thank you for the invitation to the next briefing. Depending on the timing, I would like to help with the decision on how to proceed. I'll likely be rather busy in two weeks, so we'll play that by ear.

Thank you for including Brian in the discussions, he has been my eyes, ears, and brain on this, so I appreciate you keeping him in the loop.

CONFIDENTIAL - DELIBERATIVE PROCESS PRIVILEGE

Pat:

In roughly 2 weeks we should be receiving information from KABATA regarding several terms described to us as "absolute must haves" by KABATA staff (Niemic / Hemengway) These terms include a traffic/revenue guarantee where the state would have to pay if traffic projections did not materialize; responsibility for millions of dollars a year in delay costs if environmental groups appeal the Corps permit, etc., and the financial risks and costs attached to those terms that would be imposed on the state. We should also be receiving updated costs estimates on the project. (The current cost estimate for the bridge at $630 million are 3 years old and do not include a new Ingra-Gambell exchange at an estimate of roughly $250 million (which KABATA staff have told me must be the responsibility of the state to pay for) or all the road work on the Mat-Su side of the bridge that DOT would have to build, roughly $4-500 million)

At that time, I would like to brief the Governor and ask how she would like to proceed:

Please call me today after 9:00 am if you have any questions or any thoughts on how to

Subject: Pat Forgey story on Juneau Access

The Pat Forgey story is out.

Should I call him this morning and explain that back in 2006 during the campaign there was not a pending motion in federal court for a permanent injunction against the project?

This fact alone justifies an approach of not going out to bid on the project or moving ahead.. You could put the bid out, pay the contractor to mobilize equipment and for tens of thousands of dollars in other costs, only to have the court grant the injunction and stop the project dead in its tracks before a single shovel full of dirt was turned. This would be a complete waste of dollars and could strand a contractor and his employees in the middle of the building season with no work.

As usual, Forgey leaves this key fact out of his story. Can we legislate journalistic integrity and competence?

Subject: customer complaint

Good morning Governor Palin,
I had a customer call me yesterday morning. His name is Dave Hashagen, and he lives in the Port Tongass Village Association near Ketchikan. His number is Privileged or His address is P.O. Box 8311, Ketchikan, Alaska 99901. I promised him that I would email you and the Commissioner of the Department of Administration with his complaint. I am also copying my division director since our division is responsible for the State of Alaska's telecommunications. Mr. Hashagen stated that he had talked with someone in the Commissioner's office several weeks ago, but he never heard from anyone via phone or mail. He did not recall who he had talked with.

Here's the situation. The residents in his area no longer have land lines since cell phones were deployed. In order to make a call, they have to row out into the middle of the bay to get cell phone connection. They have to do this even in bad seas if a call needs to be made.

His complaint is not being able to talk to a live person whenever he calls State of Alaska numbers during normal business hours (8:00am until 5:00pm). All he gets are auto attendants or to leave a voice message. He can't just sit in a skiff for hours waiting for someone to call him back. In addition, he has also found that many state employees don't update their voice messages if they are on leave or out of their office for an extended time. He would like to call and at least have the option to get to another live person. He added, "This is inefficient for the public and other government employees as well. We have advanced communication technology; but we have a breakdown in communication because State of Alaska employees use that technology not to answer their phones. It should be a given if a customer calls the state government, they are able to reach a live person."

Under the previous Meridian phone system our telephones were programmed to either:

1) go to the Information Operator when the customer pressed 0 during the voice message they were listening to
2) go to another employee in that section that you are calling when you press 0
3) go to the Division receptionist when you press 0

What I found by calling assorted numbers in my own division as a test and pressing 0 during the voice message:

1) some went into a loop "insisting" you leave a voice message at the callee's voice mailbox
2) some rolled to the division receptionist
3) the ETS Help Center's staff personal lines roll to another Help Center analyst phone

We all know that the State of Alaska has a high staff turnover. I deal with State employees daily and whether they are brand new to the State or have been with the state a long time, they need to be trained in their positions. Most employees are not showed how to use their phones on their desk. It's assumed they know how to use any type of phone. Each system has unique capabilities. The Enterprise Technology Services Division provides the following site to assist in learning the current telephone system: http://www.state.ak.us/local/akpages/ADMIN/info/VoIPphoneTraining.ppt

However, most employees do not know this site even exists. Also, the site does not have the directions for State of Alaska staff to reprogram their phone to redirect callers. I have included those directions below. Telephone etiquette is no longer a priority. I too encounter auto attendants and voice mails all day long due to the nature of my job duties. But I have the luxury of being able to sit at my desk to receive callbacks versus sitting in a skiff in the middle of a bay waiting for a call from someone that I don't know is even going to call me back. During my 20 years as a State of Alaska employee, I have seen a serious decline in quality customer service. We seem to be making it harder for the public to perform business with the State. We don't want to have live contact anymore. It is assumed that everyone has a computer, and they know how to use it. I work with internal and external customers all day long, and that is truly not the case.

Lastly, I supervise the State's Information Operators. They answer an average of 100 plus calls a day. I answer their calls during their breaks and lunch times if their normal backup is not available. I am always told, "I am so glad to be talking to a real person. Can you assist me in finding...?" Over 40% of those calls are customers trying to find the division that administers a particular service.

Cisco VOIP phones can be programmed by each SOA employee to redirect callers:
-log into your voice mail
-select option 4 (setup options)
-select option 3 (personal settings)
-select option 4 (alternate contact number)
-listen to that number that is currently programmed
-select option 1 to change that number
-enter the new 4-digit number followed by a pound (#) sign (note: after the full deployment of the VOIP phones—this step will change to 'enter the new 7-digit number...')
-then press star/asterisk (*) to exit

Please note that employees' phones that are part of auto attendants may already be programmed a certain way within that auto attendant; and that should be checked before an employee makes any changes to their phone.

I am going to mail Mr. Hashagen a copy of this email as a confirmation that I did send his complaint to the Governor's office and to the Department of Administration's Commissioner's office.

Thank you,
Barbara Pritchett, ETS Help Center

The time has come to honor the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and the sacrifice he made for the United States of America and the World. Dr. King gave his life to bring the people together in the United States of America and the World.

Now we as a people must come together as Men Women and the Young as he spoke of back in 1964. Political violence was truly a part of the past of the United States of America . We as a people must come together and fulfill Dr. Martin Luther King's dream of a United America Black White and the Young Living In Peace Together.

God has truly blessed us all to have the Man Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., to walk in the bright daylight of peace. Dr. King Jr. taught White People how to live together before 1970 many People lived segregated by race. Italian, Polish, Greek, Irish, Black, Chinese, Jew's and many others.

If Ireland, can Elect a Black Mayor can we Elect a Black President in the United States of America. Ireland has come a long way and lives In Peace Thank God.

Times are a changin' in the Emerald Isle!!!

Ireland, of all places gets its first black mayor in the city of Portlaoise, near Dublin. Congratulations to Mayor Rotimi Adebari and may the luck to the Irish be with him in his political career! We must stop letting race divide the American People and lead us all down a bad road!

When I was a small child in the 1960's I would be home everyday at 5:00 pm to see the news with Walter Cronkite giving a report on how the Black's were being beaten down by Police and Police Dogs. This country needs to have the chance to change and I think that U.S. Senator, Barack Obama is the Man to help make that change so that all Americans can truly Live Without Injustice And Live With Liberty and Justice for All.

THE MAN OF PEACE

Martin Luther King gets Nobel Peace Prize from King Olav of Norway. The date was

December 10th, 1964. King's name was known all over the World. He had won many honors, both in the United States and other countries. In October 1964, King won the Highest Honor of all, the Nobel Peace Prize.

It was given by the Nobel Prize Committee of the Norwegian National Assembly. The award, King said, was a sign that world opinion was on the side of those struggling for freedom and dignity. He said it was a tribute to the millions of people who followed nonviolent ways in seeking justice. When Dr. King accepted the prize in Oslo, Norway.

He told King Olav V of Norway and others: I am mindful that only yesterday in Birmingham, Alabama, our children, crying out for brotherhood, were answered with fire hoses, snarling dogs, in Philadelphia, Mississippi; young people seeking to secure the right to vote were brutalized and murdered.

King said therefore, I must ask why this prize is awarded to a movement that is beleaguered and committed to unrelenting struggle; to a movement which has not won the very peace and brotherhood which is the essence of the Nobel Prize. King said after contemplation, I conclude that this award which I receive on behalf of that movement is profound recognition that nonviolence is the answer to the crucial political and moral question of our time- the need for man to overcome oppression and violence without resorting to violence and oppression.

King said I accept this award today with an abiding faith in America and an audacious faith in the future of mankind. King said I refuse to accept the idea that man is mere flotsam and jetsam in the river of life which surrounds him.

King said I refuse to accept the view that mankind is so tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism and war that the bright daylight of peace and brotherhood can never became a reality.

On this February 18th , 2004 this History Month. I Jerry Worlds give thanks to The Man Of Peace and DEDICATE a Poem THE RIVER OF LIFE to the Man Of Peace

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

THE RIVER OF LIFE

As I sit here by the river of life watching the people go by. I see some that are young and I see some that are old time just flowing by. I'm just trying to catch every thing with my eyes flowing by.
The flowing of the river holds the key to life. Oh how beautiful the river of life can be. The river flows so straight but yet some run as though they are going to be late.
The river is steady running. For those that are old, time is running out. But for the young, time is just beginning. As the river flows life goes on and on. I sit here by the river of life thinking about this life. Where does the end of the river lie.

This Poem Was Written
By

Jerry L. Worlds

Dr. King in his last speech before his death spoke about how he wished to be remembered:
Dr. King said I'd like somebody to mention that Martin Luther King, Jr., tried to give his life serving others. And he said I'd like somebody to say Martin Luther King, Jr., tried to love somebody. He said I want you to be able to say that I did try in my life to feed the hungry... that I did try to clothe the naked... that I did try to visit those who were in prison. And I want you to say that I tried to love and serve humanity.

King said I accept this award today with an abiding faith in Americaand an audacious faith in the future of mankind. King said I refuse to accept the idea that man is mere flotsam and jetsam in the river of life which surrounds him.

King said I refuse to accept the view that mankind is so tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism and war that the bright daylight of peace and brotherhood can never became a reality.

On this December 25th 1984. I Jerry Worlds give thanks to The Man Of Peace and DEDICATE a Poem BROTHERHOOD to the Man Of Peace.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The man the land and the sand all over the World. One man one brother and his land and no sand. Reach out your hand to brothers all over the land and the World.

How do you see the World brother as all the others?
No I see War all over the land the sand and the World. Let there be peace in the East and the West and rest all over the World for all brothers.

Can you see that all the brown brothers all over the World should seek justice in nonviolent ways.

Do not let America be mere flotsam and jetsam in the river of life which surrounds war that the bright daylight of peace and brotherhood can never became a reality.

Brother go home and tell your children that you love them and the land the sand the World and Brotherhood.

Oh' God let there be justice for all the land the sand and all over the World let there be peace in the East and West.

If Ireland, can Elect a Black Mayor can we Elect a Black President in the United States of America Land Of The Free Home Of The Brave?

Times are a changin' in the Emerald Isle!!!

Ireland, of all places gets it's first black mayor in the city of Portlaoise, near Dublin. Congratulations to Mayor Rotimi Adebari and may the luck to the Irish be with him in his political career!

Obama an Iowa surprise

A little more than two years since being elected to the U.S. Senate, Barack Obama is widely considered a frontrunner for the 2008 Democratic presidential nomination. With parents from Kansas and Kenya, Obama was born in Hawaii, spent part of his childhood in Indonesia, and now calls Chicago home. He's served only two years in the U.S. Senate, but previously served as an Illinois state senator, an Attorney, and a Chicago-area Community Activist.

CLINTON: PLAYING THE RACE CARD? Hillary Clinton Insulting West Virginia Citizens by Racism Ploy!

Hillary and Bill Clinton should be ashamed of the way they have treatedBarack Obama. Mr. Obama is a God send to carry on the great work of Dr. Martin Luther King , Jr., by bringing the Whole United States of America together the Young and The Old to find common ground!

We need to disparately change the course that the World is on. Not only is the United States in danger of self-destruction the United States is the leader of the Free World.

Image from an Abolitionist pamphlet, 1837

Let there be no mistake Barack Obama has a Free Mans God given Name not a Black Slave name. Mr. Obama has roots that lead to the Vice President of the United States of American the leaders of the Free World.

If Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., were alive, he would be so ashamed of the whole Clinton family because the Black People have struggled for so long in the United States of America the leaders of the Free World. People of color have taken the Bad with the Good but it has been mostly the Bad as what you can see what the Clinton's are doing to Mr. Obama a God send to the American People to bring the World together.

Mr. Obama is a Good Christian Man that, was given his Fathers name and his Mothers Christian American Religion through his, White Grand Parent's also. White People Have Nothing To Fear Mr. Obama Was Reased White And Understands Being White or Black In America!

White People, People of Color not just Black People should be ashamed of what the Clinton family has done. This country has had 42 White Presidents with one serving the American People twice Grover Cleveland. Mr. Obama, has what it takes to be President of the Free World he has White Culture and Black Culture that is the best formula to bring the whole country together and if we don't do this it will be a mist opportunity for the World.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Malcolm X

these two were also told not to talk to each other back in the 1960's we should work together as Brothers all over the World!

People have always told Black People move to the back in everything and as the World can see in the race for the President, we are always told by the Clinton's move to the Back we as White People can do a better job. May God have mercy on their souls Amen.

I'm still keen on that idea too, knowing Alaskans would want to keep it simple... the Privileged or Peidea shouldn't be discounted as more Alaskans become more desperate and in dire straits. We talked about this last week, that solution wasn't on the top of the list, but it won't be discounted in these next days as we get ready to announce short term statewide energy relief plan on Thursday.

Senator French and Senator Weilichowski have said they may call for an audit by LB&A of Corrections. Senator French may also be holding a Judiciary Committee hearing towards the end of the month. Commissioner Schmidt has already stated in response that whatever the forum, he welcomes the opportunity to talk about the reforms and work he and his team are doing with the Department, and that if reasonable ways to improve are suggested or found as part of this process, he is open to considering those. He also continues to wait for the union to come to the table and discuss the issues.

Good Afternoon Sarah,

I'm not sure if you remember me....we went to school together at Wasilla High School. I was Robin Summers back then (I've been married now for almost 24 years so it seems a bit odd seeing my maiden name, lol). I just wanted to e-mail you and let you know how impressed I am with the wonderful job you are doing as our governor. I had moved from Wasilla to Anchorage right before our senior year in High school so I wasn't in Wasilla while you were Mayor, so I wasn't able to see your experience first hand. So......I wasn't sure how you would be as our governor, you have won me over though. I realized I had adopted a thought process that makes me not trust most folks in politics as most seem to be embedded in the Good Old Boy system. It's very refreshing though to see someone in the top spot who is honest, hardworking and very family based. Thanks again for doing such a wonderful job on our behalf.

Congratulations to you and Todd on Trig's birth. Children are such a wonderful blessing. My husband and I have to two kids (ah, I keep saying kids but our oldest daughter is 23 and about to be married in October and keeps reminding me she's not a kid anymore, lol.....oh well our 16 year old son will have to keep carrying that torch, lol). I'm sure your kids are excited about having a new baby brother. Take care and your an inspiration to all of us working mothers.

Blessings,

Robin Inman

MESSAGE:

Honorable Governor Sarah Palin,

First of all congradulations to the new addition to the honorable family.

I am writing again regarding the appropriation of $4.8 million for the Chaninik Wind Group. It is now more important than ever to keep the appropriation in the budget. It is becoming more and more uncertain with the trend of the oil prices. It is good for the state of Alaska but for the end user in a rural village future looks very dismal. The intend of the Group was to team together to address the high energy cost. It is our hope that with your signature we can begin to move forward to address the high energy cost by harnessing the renewable resource (wind) that is readily available to us.

I am very concerned about the trend of fuel oil price. It is going up with no end in sight. I will not be suprised if the price of oil reaches $200 per barrel by August.

Pleasse help by keeping the $4.8 million in the Budget.

Respectfully submitted,

Leo & Frank,

For the record, today's Juneau Empire reported only half of what I said. What I said was, The permit is in its final stages. When received we will go to the commissioner with the permit and the project status and ask for direction. We do have the first segment ready to bid. He asked if that was a 23 mile segment and I said a 5 mile segment. He asked if it was to "draw" the expected law suit and I replied it could be.

None of what he asked Reuben or I on costs, either roads or ferries, was used.

Senator French and Senator Weilichowski have said they may call for an audit by LB&A of Corrections. Senator French may also be holding a Judiciary Committee hearing towards the end of the month. Commissioner Schmidt has already stated in response that whatever the forum, he welcomes the opportunity to talk about the reforms and work he and his team are doing with the Department, and that if reasonable ways to improve are suggested or found as part of this process, he is open to considering those. He also continues to wait for the union to come to the table and discuss the issues.

Congratulations on the birth of your fourth child. I wanted to let you know that I also gave birth to a son with DS 21 years ago. He as my fourth child as well and I want to tell you that he has been an absolute positive experience for our family. Our son David has been employed competitively for teh last 3.5 years and attended a local college for additional vocational training. He will be moving into his own apartment with minimal support in July.

DS is not a debilitating condition however it is one that requires frequent "enabling"

With our son we assumed that he could do things until we found out that he couldn't and then we made accomodations. There are very few things that David can not do that a typical individual can.

If you would ever want to talk you are free to email me at bechtoldcindy@gmail.com or contact me via telephone.

Good luck with your family and best wishes for your success.

For the record, today's Juneau Empire reported only half of what I said. What I said was, The permit is in its final stages. When received we will go to the commissioner with the permit and the project status and ask for direction. We do have the first segment ready to bid. He asked if that was a 23 mile segment and I said a 5 mile segment. He asked if it was to "draw" the expected law suit and I replied it could be.

None of what he asked Reuben or I on costs, either roads or ferries, was used.

I believe Sheila was following up on the interaction between you and Senator Wilken near the end of session to talk about the budget. Unfortunately, Senator Wilken had very limited time available in May to meet with you before the bill deadline so I responded to Sheila to let her know that would be difficult to accommodate. I don't believe anyone has taken offense.

We did not offer to arrange individual meetings - with lawmakers and you - given the very limited time available. Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Many lawmakers have written letters urging your support for their projects and provided OMB with comments/backup, etc... I don't think any of them can accuse us of not communicating with them and the legislature certainly didn't give us much time to review given the early transmittal of the bill. Kelly may have some thoughts on the request from Sen. Therriault for a meeting.

We are also responding to hundreds of emails and letters from individuals, groups, communities all over the state seeking your support for these projects! Karen

Thanks Sheila - it is a HUGE job! We are working hard going through every project, all the backup, working with departments, legislators, communities, and trying to come up with recommendations for the governor. As you know, the governor has until May 23 to take action on the capital budget. I am planning on heading back up to Anchorage next week and the following week to work with the governor on the budget. Unfortunately, the dates that Senator Wilken is available and not very good for where we are/need to be in the process! I know that Mindy let the governor's office know about the interaction between the Governor and the Senator, but I think it will be very difficult to actually get something scheduled under the circumstances.

You probably already received a call from one of the OMB budget analysts on projects specific to your district. If you, or Gary, have any specific recommendations to share on other items, I would appreciate it very much! We are going to try to do the best job we can in the very short period of time we have to do it in! Thanks! KJR

Subject: Capital Budget

Hi Karen,

Good luck with the huge task that is before you - analyzing the largest ever capital budget. If anyone can do this massive job, it is you. I wish you the best.

I mentioned to Mindy Rowland a couple of days ago that Governor Palni stopped by to visit Gary, along with Todd, a week or so before the end of session. At this meeting Gov Palin indicated that she would like to meet with Gary and other members of the Senate minority when the capital budget was finalized to get their perspective on the merits of the some of the projects.

I can only imagine how busy Gov Palin's life must be with the birth of Trig, but if she still would like to meet- or if you would like to meet - with Gary and others, I thought it might be helpful for you to know Gary's prior commitments for the next couple of weeks.

Gary and his wife Sue plan to attend an out-of-state wedding of a close friend's son and will be gone from Alaska May 14-20 with an important local Fairbanks event on tMay 21.

Right now Gary is hauling his boat to Valdez and plans to return to Fairbanks on May 9. Therefore, as far as Gary's personal schedule goes the following dates would work for him, if the governor or you would like to visit re: capital budget.

May 10 - 13

May 22 - 23

Once again, good luck. Please let me know if I can help in any way.

Sheila

I recently read an article about your new son who has Down syndrome. As the parent of a 17 year old daughter with Down syndrome I felt that I had to write to you. My daughter Katelyn Rose is the youngest of 5 children, she has 4 older brothers. I know that every child is different and this includes children with Down syndrome. Never in my wildest dreams would I ever imagine that my daughter would be as independent as she has become. From the very beginning I treated her exactly like I had treated her four brothers. She went everywhere we did and has been exposed to many different things. She attends a Special Needs High School here in NJ and most of what they are teaching her are life skills that will help her when she reaches adulthood. I have been told that people do not think that Katelyn understands she has a disability because she is the one who is always willing to help others who are less able. She enjoys time away from me and is active in church. She attends a Parent

's Night Out group. There is one girl who is a little bit older than Katelyn who is in a wheelchair and is not able to do much for herself. Whenever there is a function and she is there, Katelyn takes over. She will feed her friend, push her around in the wheelchair and helps her when they are doing arts and crafts. Katelyn also attends a summer camp for handicapped children and they have nicknamed her "The Mother Hen" because she is always looking out for others. Katelyn talks all the time about when she graduates from high school in 2012 she wants a job and her own apartment and she will probably succeed in just that. Katelyn is able to stay home by herself after school which is probably for about two hours and one day I came home from work and the kitched smelled like someone had made a grilled cheese sandwich and there was a dirty frying pan on the stove. When I asked Katelyn about this her response was "I was hungry and made myself a snack". Of course, I had to explain to Katelyn that I love the fact that she ca!

Subject: Pat Forgey story on Juneau Access

The Pat Forgey story is out.

Should I call him this morning and explain that back in 2006 during the campaign there was not a pending motion in federal court for a permanent injunction against the project?

This fact alone justifies an approach of not going out to bid on the project or moving ahead. You could put the bid out, pay the contractor to mobilize equipment and for tens of thousands of dollars in other costs, only to have the court grant the injunction and stop the project dead in its tracks before a single shovel full of dirt was turned. This would be a complete waste of dollars and could strand a contractor and his employees in the middle of the building season with no work.

As usual, Forgey leaves this key fact out of his story. Can we legislate journalistic integrity and competence?

Borough declares energy emergency

The Associated Press

Published: May 9th, 2008 04:08 PM
Last Modified: May 9th, 2008 04:09 PM

FAIRBANKS - The Fairbanks North Star Borough Assembly has declared skyrocketing energy costs a public emergency.

Font size: A | A | A

"It is a crisis of generational proportions," Mayor Jim Whitaker said of the impact rising energy costs could have next year on the Fairbanks economy.

The borough said Thursday that it is prepared to put state aid, aimed at boosting energy efficiency in homes, on the fast track.

The Assembly also set aside $1.3 million for early design studies on a proposed coal-to-synthetic fuel energy project.

Borough officials said part of the expected state aid, about $8 million from the Alaska Housing Finance Corp., will go toward rating the energy efficiency of thousands of homes this summer.

The housing corporation says homeowners looking for energy rebates under the program must work with a trained, certified energy rater to analyze their homes.

The homeowner can then make improvements, get a follow-up inspection, and apply submitting receipts and a report from the rating specialist for a rebate check that could reach as high as $10,000 for large-scale improvements.

The rebate program comes as the housing corporation also prepares to expand its long-running weatherization program to cover homeowners making up to the state's median income, which is 77,700 for a family of four. The program was previously limited to low-income residents.

Borough officials said they'll team with the Cold Climate Housing Research Center to get the rebate program on the fast track by training energy raters and contractors.

An estimated one-third of homes in Fairbanks could stand to see significant energy-efficiency upgrades, said John Davies, a director at the research center.

"If we work really hard we might be able to get to between two (thousand) and four thousand (homes) before the end of this season," Davies said.

Leo- ADN wrote an editorial today re: continued work and expenditure on Juneau Rd. There needs to be clarification on my position there, which I thought we expressed to interested lawmakers two weeks ago - the letter explained that the Corps had not permitted it, and there were many hurdles it seemed before the possibility of permitting... so I don't know what "continued work" is that ADN is writing about. Is there money in the budget for the more Juneau rd planning? If there is, I need to know where it is, how much, etc. The rd is not a priority for our admin, esp knowing the Corps may not even permit it.

I'm not clear on what the ADN refers to re: cont work on the project, except for the fact we're waiting for the Corps to tell us whether it is even permittable. If it is, THEN policy decisions are made regarding spending any more money on this project or not. What money is being spent today, before we even know of the Corps' decision? My understanding is we're NOT spending money on the project at this time, that it's essentially at a stand-still until Corps does its thing with its evaluation. Thanks

Leo & Frank,
For the record, today's Juneau Empire reported only half of what I said. What I said was, The permit is in its final stages. When received we will go to the commissioner with the permit and the project status and ask for direction. We do have the first segment ready to bid. He asked if that was a 23 mile segment and I said a 5 mile segment. He asked if it was to "draw" the expected law suit and I replied it could be.
None of what he asked Reuben or I on costs, either roads or ferries, was used.

So far I have found out that your email (tied to the Elton newsletter) was forwarded to Mal Menzies and he in turn sent it his staff, Rueben Yost. I asked Mal Menzies to see if a hard copy was printed and both he and Rueben told me that they did not print out a hard copy.

The comment "This is the first time I have heard this from the governor" was in reference to the statement that the project is not a priority of the Administration. I've seen other comments for example fiscally responsible relating to the Juneau Access Road.

I can't remember meetings specifically regarding Juneau Access with Mike Tibbles, most of the meetings with Mike were in regard to the AMHS, Budget, Gravina, and staffing. Randy or Russ have been my main contact in the past for Juneau Access.

I am looking into the matter personally.

In trying to identify how this may have been passed on, we have printed the reports from the fax machines in both our Southeast Region and Headquarters to see if it was faxed to Senator Elton's office directly. We have not found this to be the case.

I have asked Commissioner Kreitzer to intervene with her ETS staff to search the computers and emails to see if it was forwarded.

I will be meeting with the staff in Juneau on Monday to continue my investigation and will report back to you my findings. This is a very serious breach in my department and I personally feel terrible that department employees have broken our trust.

I will be calling you shortly to discuss this in person.

CONFIDENTIAL - DELIBERATIVE PROCESS PRIVILEGE

Pat:

In roughly 2 weeks we should be receiving information from KABATA regarding several terms described to us as "absolute must haves" by KABATA staff (Niemic / Hemengway) These terms include a traffic/revenue guarantee where the state would have to pay if traffic projections did not materialize; responsibility for millions of dollars a year in delay costs if environmental groups appeal the Corps permit, etc., and the financial risks and costs attached to those terms that would be imposed on the state. We should also be receiving updated costs estimates on the project. (The current cost estimate for the bridge at $630 million are 3 years old and do not include a new Ingra-Gambell exchange at an estimate of roughly $250 million (which KABATA staff have told me must be the responsibility of the state to pay for) or all the road work on the Mat-Su side of the bridge that DOT would have to build, roughly $4-500 million)

At that time, I would like to brief the Governor and ask how she would like to proceed:

Subject: Pat Forgey story on Juneau Access

The Pat Forgey story is out.

Should I call him this morning and explain that back in 2006 during the campaign there was not a pending motion in federal court for a permanent injunction against the project?

This fact alone justifies an approach of not going out to bid on the project or moving ahead. You could put the bid out, pay the contractor to mobilize equipment and for tens of thousands of dollars in other costs, only to have the court grant the injunction and stop the project dead in its tracks before a single shovel full of dirt was turned. This would be a complete waste of dollars and could strand a contractor and his employees in the middle of the building season with no work.

As usual, Forgey leaves this key fact out of his story. Can we legislate journalistic integrity and competence?

Subject: Legislators Response to Energy Annoucement

Hi Governor,

Earlier in the week I forwarded the press release in which you spoke of the hardship the high fuel costs are having on Alaskans. I've received responses from several legislators, all requesting additional information when it becomes available (which I will be sure gets distributed). Additionally some have commented on their agreement with your assessment that a problem exists and could be addressed. Some want to be part of any working groups formed to investigate options.

Here are some specifics:

Sen. Wilken suggested an approach similar to legislation sponsored by Sens. Wagoner and Therriault that would make payments to utility companies to be passed along as reduced billings to consumers. However, he also felt that the focus of the upcoming special session should be solely on AGIA.

Rep. Kerttula told of the elderly and low income Juneau residents and their struggles to pay not only the elevated fuel costs, but also the anticipated higher electrical rates resulting from the avalanche. She acknowledges the problems that rural communities have had for years. She stressed that she does not want to "give you a hard time" and recognizes the task you are faced with.

Rep. Seaton is sending an email to Steve Haagenson with a proposal involving net metering (I can send it to you if you are interested).

Rep. Keller has questions and comments for Steve regarding the use of Cook Inlet reserves versus a bullet line.

These last two I've listed pertain more appropriately to a longer term solution and can be considered later.

This is just for your information and to let you know that your message has been received in the legislature and that many are interested in working with you to find a solution.

Let me know if there is anything else I can do.

Thanks

Subject: Galena Academy Graduation

Hannah Buck says you've been invited to visit the Galena school, but had a scheduling conflict. She asked me if I might attend. Next week seems pretty busy, but after reading an email from Jim Smith, the Superintendent, I'm wondering if I should go to the graduation on Friday, May 16th. And was wondering if Todd might be interested in attending also. There's a morning and evening flight on Frontier Airlines, out of Anchorage.

It's a bittersweet time for the school. On the one hand, it's celebrating tremendous success. 24 students are graduating this year. 100% of the Senior Class. An FAA representative will be in Galena tomorrow to test 3 aviation students for their instrument rating certification.

But here's the tough part: the man responsible for much of this success, Sidney Huntington, is close to dying.

What follows is an email from Jim Smith. With so much happening next week, I didn't think it was a good idea to travel. But after reading this I'm having second thoughts.

Dear Rhonda,

Jay Jacobs had shared the potential that you might be able to attend our graduation. That would have been "super" and I to regret that it did not work out. The seniors, thirty-three move on to "moving forward with our roots in mind". We've eleven from Galena and twenty-two from other communities. All of course are getting very excited. We've new beginnings and potential ends. Sidney Huntington is working on some hard times and has been down for several days. His family has thoughts that he might be near crossing-over. He's become a very good friend of mine and it's tough for me. I spent some time with him yesterday afternoon and he told me it would be the last time he would see me. Unless something changes, he'll not be sharing commencement which he was so looking forward to. He's special memories of when Todd traveled through during the Iron Dog and spent some time with him in his car on the banks of the Yukon. The Governor and her family holds a very special place in Sidney's heart. Please share with her that he's failing. We'll be fine. Again we're very sorry you are not able to make it for next Friday's ceremony. Sincerely, Jim Smith; Galena Superintendent of Schools

FYI, see below. It looks like a 1 to 3 day impact. It's great to see DNR & DOR working this together...

Also, I think we're all in agreement that the state not launch a press release until after the company does. But we get one out immediately after with the bullets mentioned previously.

Finally, our production forecast anticipated some shut-downs and was ahead before this event. As long as the event does not exceed three days, our FY2008 production forecast is still good. So this update is a positive sign.

Subject: RE: Prudhoe Bay Field Shut-down

I just got off the phone with Bernard Hajny, BP's Tax Manager. Here's what he told me:

-The disruption of power affected the 6 Prudhoe processing plants. As I understand it, this means the 3 Flow Stations on the Eastern side and the 3 Gathering Centers on the Western side. All production that goes through these stations were shut in. This LIKELY includes the volumes going through the Endicott pipeline as those volumes come from Flow Station 2, but Bernard could not confirm that.

-It did NOT impact BP's other operations: GPMA, Milne, Northstar, Endicott

-5 of the 7 generators at the Central Power Station are up with enough power restored to start getting the 6 processing stations restored.

-BP expects to have 3 of the processing stations restored today and the other 3 by the end of tomorrow.

-Bernard said to expect volumes to be down drastically today, with ramping up production over the 1-3 days.

If you have other questions, I can forward them on to Bernard.
